Award-Winning Solutions

The uniFLOW portfolio has won more than nine Buyers Lab (BLI) awards, including the 2019 and 2020 Winter Pick Award for Outstanding Cloud Output Management for uniFLOW Online.

According to BLI, the leading independent evaluator of document imaging software and hardware, "Thanks to uniFLOW Online's cloud-based architecture, user-friendly interface, feature-streamlined management, and usage visualized reports, it makes output management a snap to deploy."

Canon is honored to have received these prestigious awards and to provide its customers with industry-winning product and solution support.

Security Features

Increase device and document security with uniFLOW Online.

Device Authentication

Help ensure device security by requiring users to authenticate before accessing any device features. This helps control the misuse of printing, scanning, copying, and faxing.

Secure Printing

Hold your print jobs in a secure queue until you're physically at a device; this helps keep printed information out of the wrong hands.

Enhancements

Direct IP Printing

Eliminate print servers while providing centralized management of direct IP printing, which automates the time-consuming, frustrating tasks of setting up print queues and deploying print drivers.

Identity as a Service (IDaaS) Provider:

Streamline effective identity and access management over cloud, mobile, private network, and legacy applications, leveraging providers such as Auth0, Okta, OneLogin, Ping, Azure Active Directory, and many more.

Scan to Therefore Online

Create scan profiles into Therefore™ Online to share documents and information with colleagues, associates, and customers.

Whether you need print and scan management or document capture and distribution, uniFLOW Online can support your company and help solve your business problems!
